Next five days:

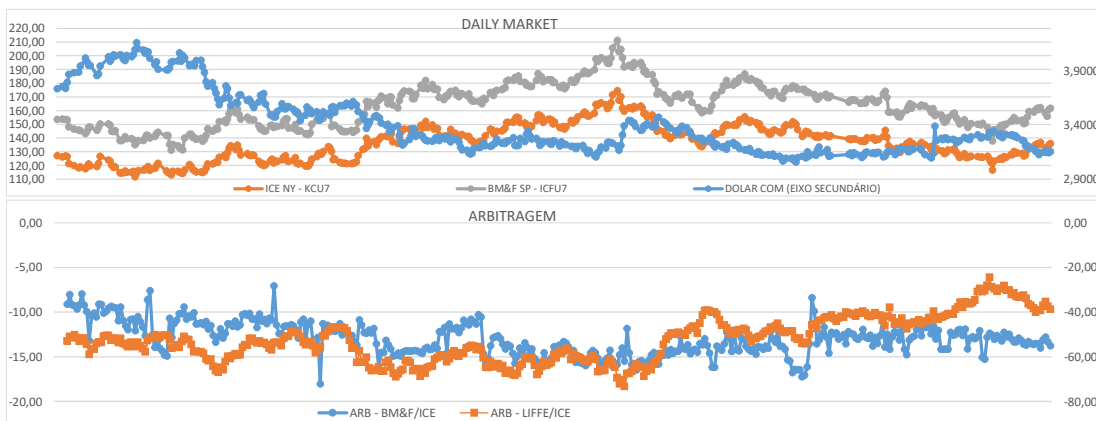

Weather remains clear and dry in the states of Paraná, Minas Gerais, São Paulo and Rondônia this Thursday and next days. It is only between Espírito Santo and southern Bahia that there is a condition for eventual weak rainfall. Dry weather favors loss of energy from the soil to the atmosphere, and even if the temperature falls in the south of Minas Gerais, it will not be by entering the polar air mass, and thus there is no risk of frosts to the crops.
