General Comments: Futures were higher last week, and weekly charts show that futures had their best week of upside action since the summer of 2017 in New York. It was a very positive close in New York, and the long awaited short covering rally has started. Futures are now at initial resistance near 110.00 December, but have the potential to move through that area and closer to the 120.00 December area. Ideas of strong production in Brazil and Vietnam have been keeping futures under selling pressure. The Real has turned stronger before the elections in Brazil, and that might be helping to cause some speculative short covering. Higher US interest rates and inflation worries are causing buying in commodities in general. Vietnam is getting close to its next harvest, and ideas are that producers there need to sell more of the previous crop to create new storage space. Producers in both countries are not selling.

Overnight News: Certified stocks are higher today and are about 2.412 million bags. The ICO composite price is now 105.96 c/lb. Brazil will get dry weather until showers appear on Monday. Temperatures should be near to mostly above normal. Colombia should get isolated showers. Central America and southern Mexico should get showers. Vietnam will get showers.

Chart Trends: Trends in New York are mixed to up with no objectives. Support is at 105.00, 103.00, and 102.00 December, and resistance is at 109.00, 110.00 and 111.00 December. Trends in London are up with no objectives. Support is at 1600, 1570, and 1550 November, and resistance is at 1660, 1680, and 1690 November.
