Coffee Market Report

The mostly short covering rally within the New York market and with the perspective on the part of many that the with the prevailing negative coffee fundamentals that the market was oversold, stalled in trade yesterday. One would think though that with the dismal prices of late that the market has been dictating for the Arabica coffee farmers, that producer price fixation selling also played a part in the pressure upon the market.

Good weather conditions for most of the main coffee districts in Brazil and the early perspective that this shall contribute towards a reasonable 2019 crop for Brazil, is also contributing towards negative sentiment. Which has already been fuelled by the bumper new crop in Brazil this year, which with good Mexican, Central American and Vietnam crops on the horizon, is bringing to the fore estimates for an over 8 million bags surplus coffee supply for this new October 2018 to September 2019 coffee year.

The January 2019 to December 2018 contracts arbitrage between the London and New York markets narrowed yesterday, to register this at 38.04 usc/Lb., while this equates to 32.33% price discount for the London Robusta coffee market.

The Certified washed Arabica coffee stocks held against the New York exchange were seen to decrease by 720 bags yesterday; to register these stocks at 2,423,004 bags. There were meanwhile a larger in number 3,335 bags decrease in the number of bags pending grading for this exchange; to register these pending grading stocks at 56,850 bags.

The Certified Robusta coffee stocks held against the London exchange were seen to increase by 17,333 bags or 1.2% over the week of trade leading up to Monday 15th., to see these stocks registered at 1,467,333 bags.
