Coffee Market Report

It is proving difficult for many to assess their strategy in terms of speculative investment into the New York arabica coffee exchange, as the last Commitment of Traders data from this market were the figures for the 18th. December. Since then and following the U.S.A. Shutdown of the Federal Government, the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission has not been publishing the figures, leaving the market players to have to guess the speculative and fund status within this volatile market.

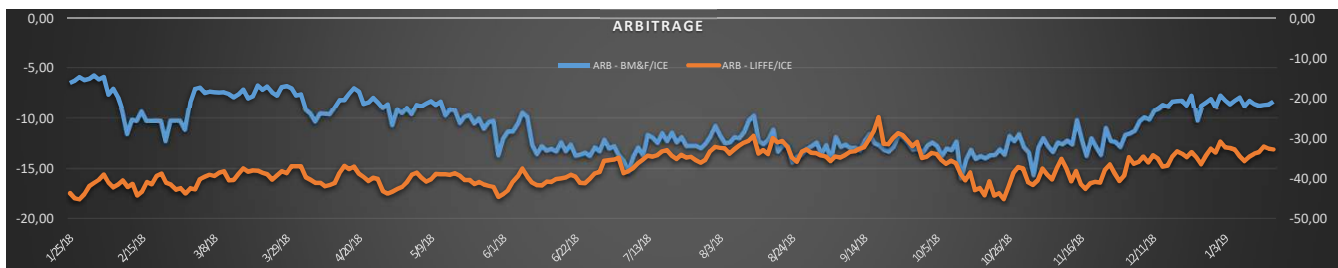

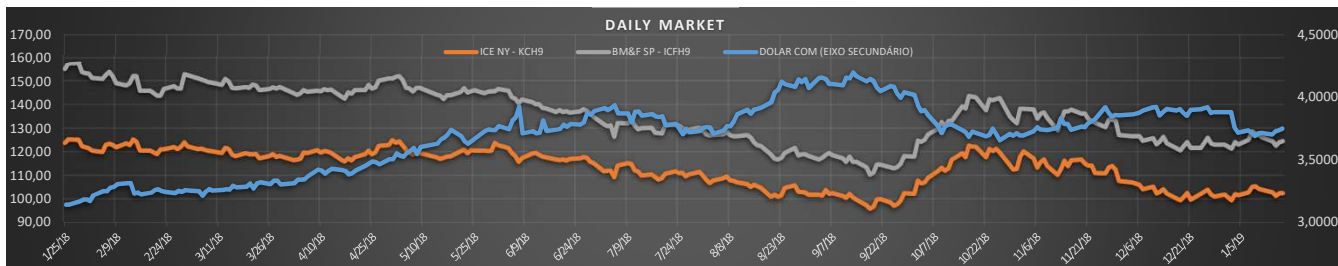

There are now only twelve trading days to the fore for the Vietnamese coffee industry, prior to the country closing down for the week-long Tet New Year holidays, which shall start on the 4th. February for the eve of the New Year on the 5th. February, which shall bring in the new Year of the Dog. But while historically farmers used to become aggressive sellers of new crop coffee stocks ahead of the festivities so as to finance the celebrations, in recent years and with income from alternative crops, this has not been the case in the recent years and one might think that it shall rather be business as usual over the next two weeks.

Thus, one would speculate that the pre-Tet holiday trade shall not be a factor that shall be threatening for the short term, to the fortunes of the London robusta coffee market.

Meanwhile the Vietnam coffee industry is already planning for the forthcoming Buon Ma Thuot Coffee Festival in the Central Highlands province of Dak Lak, which shall take place over the 9th. to 16th. March. This festival being held within Vietnam's largest coffee producing province, aimed to not only address commercial issues for the industry in terms of the Investment Promotion Conference and Coffee Exhibition, but also a street festival to bring the coffee community together.

The March to March contracts arbitrage between the London and New York markets broadened yesterday, to register this at 32.59 usc/Lb., while this equates to 31.83% price discount for the London Robusta coffee market. The Certified washed Arabica coffee stocks held against the New York exchange were seen to decrease by 2.429 bags yesterday; to register these stocks at 2,472,105 bags. There was meanwhile a larger in number 7,865 bags decrease to the number of bags pending grading for this exchange; to register these pending grading stocks at 47,939 bags.
